Event Overview

AFRICAN STUDENT RECRUITMENT CONFERENCE 2025|

The landscape of international education is undergoing significant transformation, especially in traditional study abroad destinations. These changes, driven by evolving governmental policies and shifting economic conditions, have significantly impacted the recruitment of African students.

Traditional methods of student recruitment are no longer sufficient to navigate the complexities of the current environment, where distinguishing genuine students from economic migrants is increasingly challenging.

The African Student Recruitment Conference 2025 aims to tackle these challenges directly. This conference will bring together key stakeholders, including universities, colleges, local recruitment agents, and policymakers, to collaboratively explore innovative and effective strategies for engaging with African students. Through a series of expert-led panels, workshops, and networking sessions, attendees will gain valuable insights into the latest trends and best practices in international student recruitment.

In a time of significant sectoral change, staying current with the latest developments is crucial for those responsible for international education marketing and recruitment. Partnerships with local institutions and educators in Africa will become a key strategy for recruitment.

The 10th African Student Recruitment Conference will provide a forum for developing long-term, diversified, sustainable strategies in education marketing and recruitment. It is an ideal opportunity to reflect on the radical changes in the African student recruitment market, examine emerging trends, share best practices, and equip stakeholders with the necessary information to revise policies, priorities, and strategies.
